From the Desk of the Chief

Maintaining our public's safety is our number one priority at the Citrus Heights Police Department (CHPD). We strive to ensure we utilize the very best crime prevention and traffic safety tools available to us, as well as enforce laws to keep our community safe. The truth is, we cannot do it without you, the members of our public. Keeping Citrus Heights safe is a partnership between you and your police department; working together will make Citrus Heights more resilient from crime, traffic hazards, and anything that might otherwise do our community harm.

This month, we are launching an education campaign on traffic safety. In light of recent tragic traffic fatalities, not just in Citrus Heights but also throughout our region, we want to work on educating motorists and pedestrians on traffic laws, as well as safe practices for both motorists and pedestrians.

We need your help to spread the word so people think about the hazards associated with any roadway. Driving the speed limit is important, but it is equally important to slow down when roadway or weather conditions require slower speeds. Paying close attention when traveling near school zones or heavily populated areas is important, but pedestrians can be walking near any roadway at any time, so constantly being aware of one's surroundings when driving a motor vehicle is always imperative. Inattention is a common cause of traffic accidents, which is why use of handheld cellphones while driving is a no-no.

During darkness, pedestrians should consider wearing light-colored clothing. It is often difficult to see people wearing dark clothes at nighttime. Carrying a flashlight that is lighted also helps with visibility and safety. Knowing where crosswalks are and properly using them legally is critical to safely crossing any roadway, but even if you have the green light to cross, pedestrians should always look both ways and use extreme caution when walking across a street; even if legally in a crosswalk.

Our Traffic Unit will be sending safety tips on social media and through our website over the next few months, in the spirit of getting our community to talk about these important safety tips. We know many of these things are common-sense

CALLING 9-1-1 FOR AN EMERGENCY

Luckily, most people don't dial 9-1-1 very often. But when faced with a real life and death emergency it can be overwhelming to call for help, and then be bombarded with questions. Why does the dispatcher who answers your emergency call want to ask you questions instead of just sending help already!?

When we receive a 9-1-1 call here at Citrus Heights PD, a few things happen before we even pick up the phone. We have an Enhanced 9-1-1 database that allows us to see information about the phone that is being used. The dispatcher answering your call can look at their computer screen and tell if you are calling from a land line phone, a cell phone, or a phone that uses VOIP (a service that allows the subscriber to run their phone line through the internet). The majority of the information that we need before we can send help however, must come from the caller themselves, because as good as our technology is, sometimes the information is not accurate, and nothing compares to getting real time information from you.

Dispatchers have several goals with each call they answer: to get the correct services to where help is needed, and to maintain the safety of the public as well as the police officers. This is why we ask such directed questions from the caller, although all the caller may want us to do is "send someone!" The first thing we need to know is the "Where" of the situation. Where is the emergency happening? If it is happening on the freeway or outside of our city limits, we may need to forward that caller to the correct agency to handle their emergency. We will stay on the line with you, and make sure that your call is answered. The second thing we need to know is the "What". What is the emergency? If it is a medical emergency, we will add a paramedic dispatcher to the line who is trained to give pre-arrival instructions and dispatch ambulance and fire crews to you. If it is a police emergency, we will keep you on the line and start asking more specific questions.

The "Who" usually comes next. Are you involved? Who else is there? Are there a lot of people? We ask these questions because we are trying to determine how many officers will be required to handle the call safely. Remember that we rely on our citizens to be our eyes and ears until we arrive on scene.

The other key component to be aware of is that in the case of an in progress emergency, the moment when we have the "Where" and the "What", we have partners in the communications center who are sending officers to the problem. We will keep you on the line and keep asking questions and updating the information for the officers responding, but the questions that we are asking do not delay the officers' response time. These questions only make our response better and more efficient.

We have had callers who are upset that we keep asking questions so they hang up the phone. This actually delays our response because then the Officers are coming into a situation virtually blind. They have to approach slowly, and with even more caution because they do not know the circumstances that they are walking into. After the "Where, What, and Who" we will really get down into the background of the call and ask some detailed questions. Just remember that the more information we have going into a call, the better job we can do responding to it.

If you ever have to reach out and dial 9-1-1, take a deep breath, and realize that the questions we ask are designed to give you the fastest, and best response possible.

 CITRUS HEIGHTS ON TELEVISION!! ***

Celebrate International Women's Day with the Citrus Heights History & Arts Commission! On March 8, 2017 KVIE will premiere the Commission's exciting, inspiring documentary Ladies to the Rescue. Commissioner Larry Fritz has continued his work on this oral history project, capturing the heroic tale of Citrus Heights' own Ladies Auxiliary and Ladies in White. These brave women stepped up and took over emergency services for the city (with little more than first aid kits and the family station wagon!) when the men were off to war. The documentary premieres at 7:00 PM on Wednesday, March 8 with four more scheduled showings throughout the weekend.

You don't want to miss it!

Dignity Health Prepares to Begin Construction of Medical Office Building

At the February 23rd City Council meeting, Mayor Jeff Slowey announced Dignity Health signed the lease agreement for the former city hall site and plans to break ground on a new medical office building in spring 2017.

The 68,000-square-foot medical office building will be located at the corner of Greenback Lane and Fountain Square Drive (see Photo I). The three-story facility will be operated by Dignity Health Medical Foundation and provide primary and specialty care services.

Development of the medical office building will diversify the Citrus Heights economy and add new long-term, high-paying jobs. In addition, the project will bring temporary construction-related jobs to the city. Furthermore, the public-private partnership will generate revenue through the ground lease to help offset the purchase of the new Citrus Heights City Hall.

The City Council approved the Medical Office Building and City Hall Project in fall 2016. As part of the project, the City demolished the former civic center buildings and purchased a new 35,000 square-foot facility at 6360 Fountain Square Drive. The new one-story City Hall opened in August 2017, consolidating City staff into one energy-efficient building.

As luck would have it, Citrus Heights Animal Services (CHAS) received a PetSmart Charities grant to help cat owners spay and neuter their cats! Not only that, but vouchers will be issued for any owned, stray, or feral cat in the City of Citrus Heights!

CHAS has partnered with the Sacramento Area Animal Coalition and River City Cat Rescue to distribute vouchers. Request a spay or neuter voucher online at www.sacanimal.org or by emailing info@rivercitycatrescue.

For feral cat community concerns, contact Citrus Heights Animal Services at (916) 725-7387.

Those Lucky Dogs!

City staff saw two stray dogs enter I-80 WB ramp and called Animal Services. Two Animal Services Officers (ASO) were dispatched to the freeway.

Another City Staff member ran into the owner at a gas station on Auburn Blvd and Antelope Road. He called Animal Services and CHAS was able to direct the owners to the location where the ASOs had pursued the dogs to!

The dogs and owners were reunited in less than an hour! Citrus Heights has a great Team! Way to go!

Trim your Waste

During the month of March, a Republic Services employee will be inspecting residential recycling carts. The inspector will be looking for carts that are 100% free of contamination. The first household in each of the 10 neighborhood areas in Citrus Heights without any contamination in the recycling cart will WIN!

Each winner will receive a $100 gift card, be entered to win an additional $200 gift card, and be recognized in front of the Citrus Heights City Council.

What is Contamination?

Contamination consists of anything that should not be in the recycling cart. The recycling cart should not have any of the following items in it, or it will be disqualified from the competition:

- trash
- napkins, paper towels, tissue paper
- loose flimsy plastic (plastic bags, baggies, 6-pack rings, packaging pillows)
- green/yard waste
- food
- electronic waste or batteries
- polystyrene (Styrofoam and packaging peanuts)

Tips and Hints

Flimsy plastic can be recycled if it is not loose, but rather, bundled together. Put all your loose plastic inside of one plastic bag, so it is full and thick. Then tie the plastic bag and place in the recycling cart.

Recyclables do not need to be thoroughly washed, but too much leftover food/residue will make a product unrecyclable. Remember, rinsing out your recyclable to get rid of food/residue is not a waste of water. Making a brand new product from scratch takes more water than rinsing and recycling.

If you have any more questions about what can be recycled, contact:

Annah Rulon at arulon@republicservices.com

We'll handle it from here.™

COME JOIN YOUR NEIGHBORS!

Your Local Neighborhoods Help Make Citrus Heights a Great Place to Live!

Get involved and make a positive impact in your neighborhood!

Whether you are new to Citrus Heights and still unpacking your moving boxes, or if you've lived here since cityhood was just a gleam in the eye of a few, we encourage you to check out your local Neighborhood Area (NA) group to see how those involved make such a difference in their respective communities. You can too!

Citrus Heights is divided into 11 neighborhoods, each of which is represented by its respective group of residents (see map). There are ten different neighborhood groups (areas 7 and 8 are combined) that meet once a month. These popular meetings, commonly referred to as NA Meetings, allow residents to address neighborhood issues (e.g. traffic or crime), work on various projects, host City staff for informational presentations, and much more. Interestingly, the public recently voted creation of the numbered neighborhoods one of Citrus Heights' Top 10 Accomplishments since incorporation in January 1997.

The NA's are an excellent opportunity to get to know your neighbors, work together to preserve the quality of life enjoyed in your neighborhood, and stay current on what is going on in the City: trends, events, information, alerts. There is no cost to join an NA and you do not have to own a home in order to belong. Anyone who lives, rents, or owns property or a business in Citrus Heights can get involved.

All of the NA's are part of REACH (Residents' Empowerment Association of Citrus Heights). REACH is a coalition that consists of a board of directors comprised of a representative from each neighborhood. REACH represents the interests of the community and its citizens, encouraging participation to preserve the quality of life in our city. REACH meets the 1st Monday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Community Room at City Hall (6360 Fountain Square Drive).
