From the Desk of the Chief

Recently, I had the honor of being installed as the 49th President of the California Police Chiefs Association (CPCA). The Installation Banquet was held in Monterey, California in conjunction with the association's Annual Training Symposium. An even greater honor was having our own Citrus Heights City Manager Henry Tingle make the trip to not only speak to the nearly 500 guests, but to actually install the 2014-2015 board as well. Governor Jerry Brown was the keynote speaker for the evening and our district representative Assemblyman Ken Cooley attended in support. Also in attendance were elected members of the Citrus Heights City Council, including Mayor Mel Turner, key Citrus Heights city and police staff, as well as police chiefs and executives from throughout the state.

CPCA represents the state's municipal police chiefs whose agencies protect over 78 percent of the citizens of California. Interestingly, since the organization's incorporation in 1966, it has been 39 years since anyone from the greater Sacramento area has served as the association president; I am proud to represent our region in this new role. Current membership includes 329 police chiefs (out of 333 statewide) and 921 retired chiefs. Cal Chiefs primary roles are to identify relevant issues and facilitate information sharing among law enforcement leadership to better manage current issues.

Cal Chiefs actively monitors new legislation and advocates in the interest of law enforcement. Legislative alerts and calls for action are provided to members as soon as information is developed so that the association can engage legislators within their districts timely. Cal Chiefs also reviews and positions itself on bills affecting law enforcement in the state, tracking in excess of 600 bills each year.

I have long been an advocate of strong public safety through community policing and have actively fostered safer communities by forging solid relationships and working collaboratively with political leadership, the business community, educational leaders, and neighborhood stakeholders. The platform CPCA affords law enforcement in all these areas greatly enhances our reach and voice statewide. I look forward to working collaboratively on the key legislative and public safety topics facing the profession. Our focus this coming year will be issues related to the implementation of Realignment and the importance of sufficient funding for local law enforcement to mitigate Realignment's impact on our communities. We are also launching proactive medical marijuana regulation legislation to further ensure the public's safety and reduce the harm that is currently unfolding in our state due to lack of regulations. We intend to focus on human trafficking, mental health, youth intervention, and other pressing issues that impact the safety of the citizens of California.

All this being said, rest assured that our city and this department will remain my priority and I intend to remain as visible and available as I have always been. My role as president of the association merely augments our ultimate goal – the safety and well being of those we serve.

Arcade Creek Preserve Ground Breaking

On March 24, 2014, the Sunrise Recreation and Park District (SRPD) officially broke ground on the Arcade Creek Park Preserve (ACPP), accessible from Bonham Circle (Sunrise Boulevard and Sun Hill Drive). The new park will include something for each member of the family. For some, stepping out of a busy daily routine to enjoy over a mile of nature filled hiking trails just might meet the need. Those looking to work up a sweat and a bit more adventure, will find gym-quality fitness equipment stations throughout the park.

Boasting the first of its kind, ACPP brings this fun, free social fitness course environment to the great outdoors. For the young at heart, ACPP takes full advantage of meandering Arcade Creek. Play pockets full of adventurous play structures running along the creek allows visitors to be anything but a passive spectator. To top things off, the new Arcade Creek Park Preserve will include the area's first public zip line course.

SRPD anticipates the project will be complete this summer. For more information, contact the Sunrise Recreation and Park District at (916) 725-1585 or visit their website.

Citrus Heights Community Marching Band

The Citrus Heights Community Marching Band has just celebrated one of its most important milestones; its 100th Performance! The CHCMB performed for the 100th time for fans and supporters at our 5th Annual Spaghetti Dinner Fundraiser, held at the new Citrus Heights Community Center on March 22nd. The Band will be taking to the street in its first round of events in May, including the Orangevale PowWow Days Parade, the Old Sacramento Music Festival, and the North Highlands VFW Memorial Day Parade.

Another important milestone for this all age, all volunteer band will be our 10th appearance in the Citrus Heights Red, White, and Blue Parade on Sunrise Blvd on June 28th. The Band was created by Kathy Cook in 2005 to serve in just one appearance in the Red White and Blue Parade. In the last 9 years the CHCMB has expanded to perform 100 times in events such as parades, concerts, and band competitions such as the Capitol Classic drum corps show in Elk Grove, and the Del Oro Band Spectacular in Loomis.

The CHCMB is a free, all ages band made up of amateur musicians from Citrus Heights and beyond. We welcome new members every week! Some of our best musicians hadn't played in 20-60 years before joining us! We meet every Monday evening at the Citrus Heights City Hall complex located at 7115 Greenback Lane from 6-8pm. We are proud to offer free use of instruments and uniforms to our members. Come Play With US as we march into 2014 and beyond!

Pet Parenting and the Resident Renter

Most people enjoy the company and comfort of owning a pet, however some of the most frequently heard phrases across an animal shelter counter is “I’m moving and I can’t take my pet” or “My landlord says I can’t keep my animal” or “My neighbor moved and left their pet behind”. This leads to high shelter populations and, depending on the space available, an increased level of euthanasia. According to the ASPCA nearly 5 million to 7 million pets are brought into animal shelters in the U.S. every year. As a conscientious pet owner, you can do your part to prevent your pet from being one of them.

Many renters aren’t aware of restrictions placed by landlords and insurance companies regarding pets. Landlords may choose to minimize their liability risk by restricting breeds or animal size/weight or even refuse to allow pets on the premises. Other concerns of a property manager are possible damages to the unit by the animal, nuisance complaints regarding barking, noise, or sanitary concerns and pets left behind after a tenant leaves the complex.

Be prepared to consider: additional monetary deposits, pet rent and renters insurance that could be requirements of a landlord. Eliminate the need to rehome a pet or being evicted for breaking a lease by being honest when renting.

Renters should also look into the local ordinances regarding animals. Most jurisdictions require licensing and current rabies vaccinations. Call your local animal services provider for more information. Other renter considerations should be:

- ♦ Pet types – Dog, cat, bird, fish, reptile.... Restrictions may apply for animal types or breeds, noises, animal size or aquarium size. Ask your rental agent.
- ♦ Pet toilet areas – smells and unsanitary conditions often alienate landlords and neighbors. Be sure to use designated areas and dispose of feces properly.
- ♦ Exercise areas – Most complex common areas have noise restrictions and the tenant parking areas and walk paths could present a problem for you, your dog and your neighbor’s safe access to those areas. Regular walking and off leash dog parks (a good option for an unleashed experience) and will help your pet vent its excess energy.
- ♦ Follow local leash laws, even when walking your dog in the complex. Leashed animals can be controlled and prevented from jumping on people, or running into traffic and parking areas. Flexi-leads are not recommended.
- ♦ Pet separation anxiety – Even cats can wreak havoc when bored or lonely, shredding drapes & tearing carpet or furniture up with their claws. Most dogs express anxiety through perpetual barking, whining and destructive behavior such as digging or chewing. Exercise, toys, crate & obedience training and, of course, the owner’s attention can eliminate some of a pet’s anxiety. Renters may want to consider boarding & dog day care options near them or hire a dog sitter or dog walker.
- ♦ SPAY & NEUTER – Animals that are spayed or neutered are less likely to roam or exhibit nuisance behaviors like spraying/urinating to mark territory and yowling.
- ♦ LICENSE & MICROCHIP your pet to be sure it is returned to you if it gets loose in the complex.
- ♦ BEFORE renting (or at move in) use a black light to show previous urine stains and prevent the possibility of being charged for damages caused by a prior tenant’s animal. Having them cleaned will lessen the likelihood of your pet using the same area to make ‘mistakes’.

Scams Targeting Elderly in Citrus Heights

The Citrus Heights Police Department is warning its residents, in particular its elderly citizens, about a scam targeting them in local Sacramento strip malls. Suspects approach and persuade their victims to withdraw money from their bank accounts.

Detectives are investigating two cases in which elderly victims were contacted by two suspects who told the victims that they (the suspects) had just received hundreds of thousands of dollars. The suspects convinced the victims to drive to nearby banks and withdraw funds from their personal accounts. In both incidents, the suspects stole the victim's vehicle while the victim was inside the bank withdrawing funds.

Both victims had their vehicles stolen. The stolen vehicles have since been recovered.

On January 1, 2014, one of the suspects entered the bank with the victim. The female suspect is only involved in one of our cases. The female suspect is described as a white female adult, average build; please refer to attached surveillance photos taken of her during the incident.

The other suspects are described as black male adults in their 30's and 40's, average builds, with dark hair.

The Citrus Heights Police Department wishes to warn our community about this current scam in order to mitigate the chance of this occurring in our city. If you are approached in a similar manner, do not follow the suspect's instructions. It is important to understand this is a scam and to notify law enforcement right away.

As well, if you recognize the female in this photo, or have any information regarding these crimes, please contact the Citrus Heights Police Department at (916) 727-5500.

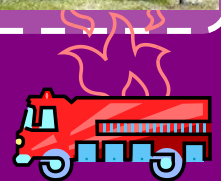

Be on the Look Out - Trailer Thefts

In California, trailers are one of the most popular theft targets. With this in mind, the Citrus Heights Police Department would like to offer prevention techniques and tools in order to make it more difficult to steal your construction or cargo trailers.

Help us prevent trailer theft by following these guidelines:

- ♦ Keep trailers out of sight or behind fences and not stored on the street.
- ♦ If parked temporarily on the street, leave it attached to a vehicle.
- ♦ Park your vehicle in a manner that prevents access to the front and back of the trailer.
- ♦ Use theft prevention devices, locks, and wheel locks to deter theft.

Citrus Heights offers Free Sterilizations for Feral Felines & Owned Cats

Thanks to a grant from PetSmart Charities®, the City of Citrus Heights Animal Services (CHAS) has been able to initiate a pilot program, partnering with Sacramento Area Animal Coalition (SAAC) and River City Cat Rescue, (RCCR), two local non-profit agencies, to provide vouchers for free spay or neuter for feral cats for humane feral population management. All feral felines will have the tip of their ear removed while under general anesthesia and receive a rabies vaccination during their spay/neuter surgery to indicate they have been sterilized.

Additionally, CHAS will offer free spay/neuter vouchers to cat owners in the 95610 and 95621 zip codes to prevent the birth of unwanted kittens, reducing their numbers at shelter and their likely euthanasia.

The pilot program offers three options for sterilizing cats:

Sacramento Area Animal Coalition (apply online at www.sacanimal.org)

Feral cat voucher

Owned cat voucher

River City Cat Rescue (email info@rivercitycatrescue.org to request a feral or owned cat voucher.)

CHAS – To receive more information sterilizing stray & feral cat colonies in your Citrus Heights neighborhood, contact CHAS at 916-725-7387. Our Animal Services Officers will be happy to assist you in ascertaining the nature of the population and whether the cats are eligible under the program.

The City of Citrus Heights relies on grant funding and donations to offer free and/or low- cost sterilization & vaccination services for pet owners in the community. For more information or to find out how you can help, please call 916-725-7387.

Join the Fight against Graffiti

Graffiti has become an extensive problem, is an unattractive public nuisance, and diminishes the quality of life in our neighborhoods.

The fight against graffiti is one involving the efforts of the City of Citrus Heights, the Citrus Heights Police Department, and the community. One effort is the rapid identification and removal of graffiti.

The prompt removal of graffiti has been shown to reduce reoccurrence of graffiti by reducing the notoriety of the vandals. This will also help reduce the likelihood of copycat vandals and retaliation by rival gangs.

The City of Citrus Heights is committed to providing high quality and prompt service to the community.

Please report graffiti using the phone numbers below:

- Please call (916) 727-4770 to report graffiti on public property
- Graffiti on Interstate 80, call Caltrans (916) 783-7976
- Graffiti on Sacramento Municipal Utility District utility boxes, call (888) 742-7683
- Call Code Enforcement at (916) 725-2845 to report graffiti on private property

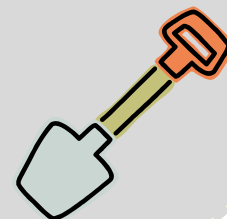

If you have any additional questions please call the Citrus Heights Police Department (916) 727-5500.
